

SOCIETY BACK IN TOWN.

Getting Ready for the Divertissements of the Winter's Campaign.

INCREASING LIFE ON OUR STREETS.

Opening of Boyd's a Notable Occasion—Surprising a Resident of Dundee Place—A Spider Wed Party.

The event of greatest importance in the social and intellectual life of this city was the opening of Boyd's new theater Thursday evening. It was an event which will be remembered with interest and pleasure by those who were fortunate enough to be present at the formal dedication of what is one of the handsomest temples of amusement in the country.

The scene was indeed a brilliant one, the colors in their dainty beading reminding you of Watteau fan. The youth, mostly of the metropolis took possession of the house, and made the opening a gala occasion indeed. The boxes were filled by the prettiest matrons and maids in the city, while throughout the auditorium handsome ladies and distinguished men gave interest to the prettiest picture Omaha has ever looked upon.

Indeed the premiere of the house of art took on an appearance much resembling a Paris opera night, for nearly everybody was in full dress, and for consequence the beginning was a real success, socially, artistically and financially.

Every day brings in early returning tourists and the streets begin to assume the appearance of fall. The shops are resplendent in autumn fabrics, the windows gorgeous in their new dress. Faces bronzed by a kindly summer sun testify to the outdoor life of our owners, while here and there in the hotels and clubs are encountered loiterers who are getting back to the cares of business after a season's sojourn in the mountains or by some cool sequestered lake in the heart of the wilderness. While some will linger and remain at distant places until September ends, others give a brilliant touch to the landscape the great majority of the fashionables are on their way home, and shortly society will resume its round of pleasures.

Seeking After Knowledge.

With the coming of the autumn days and the suggestion of fall freshness in the atmosphere the boys and girls who have been enjoying a season of idleness begin to pack their trunks and hampers, and by the middle of September will be back at the grind again, imbibing knowledge in college and seminary.

The roster this year shows a very large number of Omaha pupils who will leave for foreign schools in a short time, or have left. While the list below is not altogether complete, it gives a fair idea of the number of pupils Omaha sends out to the schools, colleges and seminaries throughout the land each year.

The Omaha School of Music.

That Omaha is destined to take a prominent place in the art life of the west is evidenced in the founding of the Academy of Fine Arts, the establishing of a conservatory of music and other similar associations, and now comes Mr. L. A. Torrens, the director of the Apollo club and an experienced teacher, at the head of a new institution which is called the Omaha School of Music. The metropolis, occupying as it does the coin of vantage, should become a recognized center in both the musical and dramatic of the western country, and for that matter, take a pronounced position in the estimation of the whole nation. There are in our midst clever painters and still cleverer musicians, who properly brought together ought to do very creditable work, not only for themselves, but for the city which they have elected as their home.

The Omaha School of Music although but a comparatively new institution has in its faculty many of the leading musicians of the west, their reputation in the branches to be taught being second to none. The faculty will consist of Mr. Martin Cahn, in charge of the piano forte; Mr. W. T. Taber, organ; Herr Joseph Gahn, counterpoint and harmony; Hans Albert, violin; J. E. Butler and W. E. Marshall, viola; Sig. C. L. Sargent, teacher of the languages; Rev. Joseph T. Duryea, D. D., lecturer on musical topics. The branches to be taught are painting, piano, violin, organ, harmony, composition, etc., and the languages. Lectures and recitals will be given from time to time which will be the effort of the director, Mr. L. A. Torrens, to organize an orchestra of which the city will be proud. He will also have a string quartette and in the Young Men's Christian association hall where the school has taken quarters, chamber concerts will be given. In conjunction with the school a musical bureau will be organized and vocalists, instrumentalists, orchestras and string quartettes will be sent on concert tours through the state and if demanded through neighboring states.

With such a faculty and with Mr. Torrens at the head of the school, it ought to become one of the strong musical associations of the west, in keeping with the prominent Omaha has already attained as a city of clear discernment in all matters pertaining to art. The school will open Monday, September 14, in the Young Men's Christian association hall and pupils attending from a distance will have the benefit of the work done by the Apollo club during the season in addition to the best talent in the country in concert.

Surprising a Man with a Birthday.

Mr. C. W. Koltz, resident manager of William Deering & Co., residing in Dundee Place, had a birthday on Monday, but he anticipated spending the day very quietly with only a "fuss or feather." But there were a number of friends of the gentleman who determined to teach Mr. Keith a lesson about celebrating the attainment of thirty-two years, and no doubt he realizes how needless it was to promise himself a quiet time. Messrs. Upton, Carmichael and Shannon arranged a game croquet for Monday evening, and in keeping with the promise of the day it was a ruse, however, to get the recipient of the surprise away from home while the evening was so pleasantly arranged. The good things, light's clock the battle royal was waged and then without the least ceremony a band struck up an inspiring air, and the guests were invited to the grand old home at Nineteenth and Davenport streets.

Mrs. Joseph Lehner has returned from Chicago where she spent the summer. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrow have gone on a two month's visit to Milwaukee on the Hudson.

Miss Sophie Koehler, who has been visiting the Misses Cosgrave for the past two months, returned to her home in Denver, where she will resume her studies at the Loretta convent.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Ames have removed from their former home on Park street to their new residence on west Farnham street, which is rapidly becoming the Nob Hill of Omaha.

Mrs. J. W. Cotton, greatly improved from her long visit to Ferry Beach, Me., has returned to her home on Park street, where she will spend several occasions and received several flattering offers to make Gotham her home.

Miss Carrie Wassmer, of Grand Island, who made such a hit at the Omaha Guards ball last winter, because of her beauty, will spend the winter in this city the guest of her aunt at Twenty-first and Burt streets, in order to pursue her art studies.

There was a very pretty box party at Boyd's theater Friday evening, the participants being Miss Minnie Matthews, Miss Edna Matthews, Miss Marie Welsch, Miss Tom Cutler of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. New York City; Mr. P. G. Moore, Chicago.

A race this week attracted large crowds of gay young men and women, the grandstand being a blaze of color especially on Thursday and Friday. There were a number of athletic parties throughout the week, Miss Walsley, Miss H. H. Wheeler, Mrs. Dan Wheeler, Jr., Mrs. Harry McCormick being noticed on the roof of a tall building on Friday.

General Crook's many friends in this section will rejoice to learn that having obtained her well-deserved pension, Mrs. Crook has been able to build a pretty little home at Oakland, Md., where she has her first met the general wounded and a prisoner. Mrs. Crook has been secured as instructor of the German language.

Madame Sauvage, a graduate of the Academy of Sacred Heart, Paris, and sister of a resident of Florence, Italy, is unexcelled as teacher of French and Italian.

Mr. Max Lentz, a native of Hamburg, Germany, has been secured as instructor of the German language.

Resonance and Ostrum.

The marriage of Miss Lizzie Benson to Mr. Herbert Ostrom of Chicago was solemnized by Rev. Willard Scott of the St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church, at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. Edward Benson, 1324 North Twenty-fifth street, Tuesday.

The wedding was private, only the immediate friends of the family being present. The house was very handsomely decorated with plants and cut flowers. Two little nieces of the bride acted as flower girls and a little nephew as ring bearer. The wedding gifts were very handsome and numerous. The happy couple left for the east immediately after the ceremony and will be home to their numerous friends at 424 Thirty-fourth street, Chicago, after November 1.

ATTRACTIONS AT THE THEATERS.

What Amusement Lovers Will Find to Entertain Them This Week.

The Hicks & Sawyer minstrels, who will be at the Farnham Street theater the first four days of the week, will give a matinee this afternoon, inaugurating their season in Baltimore last month. The Baltimore Sun gave the performance a highly complimentary notice, saying that the following extracts were made: "The first part showed the whole company on the stage, with G. W. Pickett in the middle and Ben Hunt and Dool Bayles on the end as the first ray of premier. They were followed by Billy Johnson and Joe Holcomb, the performance was willing and able hands. The singing and dancing in the first part is excellent, introducing William Coleman, W. H. Scott, R. Russell, Julius Johnson, George Williams, Taylor and others. Julius Johnson possesses a tone voice of rare directness and power, which he carefully and intelligently handles. The songs are good, and the dancing is good. In the old Billy Jackson, Joe Holcomb, 'Doc' Sayles and William Smart captured the house with their specialties and kept the audience in a continuous roar. Messrs. Walter Smart, Colly McGowan and George Wilson showed themselves to be acrobatic wonders. Smart and Taylor made their best in their drum and tuning act, and it is feared that he will never again stand in the pulpit of his famous Tabernacle in London.

Bishop French of England, who died recently in Arabia, was known as "that long-tongued man of Lahore," for he could preach in English, Persian, Hindustani, Pushto, Hindi, Tamil and Punjabi, and was an eminent scholar in Hebrew, Arabic, Syriac, Greek and Latin.

The Presbyterians of San Rafael, Cal., have razed for a third time the most dilapidated larger church building. Mrs. T. W. Park has offered to give $20,000 toward a new stone building, which will be completed within two years and after that time completed, shall be free from debt.

If Dr. Ignatius Horstman succeeds Bishop Gilmore in the Cleveland diocese, as he seems likely to do, the Cleveland church will have gained another big bishop. He is six feet three inches in height, and like Bishops Brooks and Walker in the Episcopal church, a man of commanding figure.

The chief religions of the world may be classified according to the number of adherents as follows: Christianity, 450,000,000; Islam, 300,000,000; Hinduism, 200,000,000; Mohammedanism, 150,000,000; Buddhism, 100,000,000; Spirit Worship, 50,000,000; Shintoism, 20,000,000; Jainism, 10,000,000; Purees, 2,000,000. Total, 1,440,000,000.

The salvation army has been in existence just thirteen years. It had its origin in a London street, where a man named William Whitty, in the rough and tumble of the Yorkshire, where General Booth, at that time Rev. William Booth, was doing humble work as a Christian. He then in arms, expecting to jump into the Russo-Turkish war. It occurred to Booth that he might attract a crowd by issuing a declaration of war which he did, and the result was that he picked it plentifully with halloos and posted 2,000 copies of it about town. The device checked the British sense of humor, there was a real war, and the result was that the general Booth, "the penitents fell down in heaps," and the salvation army sprang into life full of madam.

Madam Wallace, who has been in Europe for the past two months in the interest of Morse's custom dress making department, returns Monday next. On her tour through the principal fashion centers of Europe, Madam Wallace has been phenomenally successful in gathering the rarest and most fashionable novelties, together with a detailed and authoritative knowledge of the latest designs in European fashions.

Regular Army and Navy Marines. This order of soldiers, sailors and marines is very rapidly increasing throughout the United States. New garrisons are now being formed in all parts of the country. Since the last meeting of the National corps held in Boston last month, thirteen new garrisons have been chartered and many more applications have been received at the national headquarters in Boston, Mass. Abraham Lincoln Garrison No. 28, located at Fort Omaha, has a membership of about forty, and it is understood that a new garrison will be shortly organized in this city. At the national convention lately held at Boston a great many changes were made in the constitution and by-laws of the union, the principal one being the abolishment of army rank in the union and substituting the titles of national, vice and deputy commanders in place of general, major, lieutenant, etc. The doing away of departments and assistant adjutant generals, and in their place appointing a national aide-de-camp for each state whose duty will be somewhat similar to that of deputies of secret societies. Comrade Perry A. Lyon, formerly aid for Nebraska, has tendered his resignation in view of his removal from the state. His successor has not yet been appointed and it may be deferred until a new garrison is added to the state of Nebraska, as the national deputy commander, Comrade E. J. Davis, residing in Omaha, will be delegated to take charge of the western garrisons and a new aid is appointed at General Wheaton at Fort Omaha has kindly tendered the use of the post hall for the meetings of Abraham Lincoln Garrison, and the garrison, in addition to the kind and elected General Wheaton an honorary member.

Subject to the Colic.

Persons subject to periodical attacks of colic will be interested in the following: "Mr. Clark, living near here, has had chronic colic for years. He tried one 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave him so much relief that he has since used four bottles which he says has almost cured him sound and well. He remedies sold rapidly and well here.—W. H. Worrell, druggist, Fort White, Florida."

To the Public.

I am a traveling man and have been afflicted with chronic diarrhoea for some ten years. Last fall I was in western Pennsylvania, and accidentally was introduced to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I used it for a few days and it was wonderfully relieved. I would like now to introduce it among my friends.—H. M. Lewis, 24 Freeman street, Cleveland, Ohio.

Ohio.

We have never heard of a case of chronic diarrhoea that this remedy would not help. It is a powerful purgative, and a powerful medicine the patient had ever tried. In many cases it has effected a permanent cure. Many old soldiers, who contracted the disease while in the army, are so much relieved by this medicine that they are enthusiastic in their praise of this remedy.

PASTORS AND PEOPLE.

Bishop Newman presided over the Chicago German conference last week in the city of Chicago. He will not return to Omaha until November 1.

The fall term at Brown hall will open in view of that of any fall term the institution has ever experienced.

A complete medical and physical laboratory has been put in, and several large class rooms, some primary school rooms and an art studio have also been fitted up, all in view of the fact that the school has an attendance of fully 100 pupils during the fall term.

The Second Wesleyan church has been appointed to give a concert at the Grand Opera house Saturday evening, September 19. Well known vocal and instrumental musicians will be present, and the concert is volunteered to assist in the testimonial, which ought to be successful in every particular, for the young people are worthy of encouragement.

Musie et Paik.

The Second Infantry band will render the following programme at Hanson Park Sunday afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock: Overture—Guy Manneering. Bishop Medley—Bris-a-Bran. Misses Truison, Alice, Clark and Lela, (soprano, mezzo, alto, tenor, bass). Weber. Messrs. Truison, Alice, Clark and Lela. Selection from opera "Eranu." Verdi. Intermission.

Quartette—Eranu. Chorus from a night in Granada. Selection Die Abendglocken. Messrs. Truison, Alice, Clark and Lela. Selection from opera "Rigoletto." Verdi. Potpourri—Musical Panorama. Conradi. Intermission.

III Act opera—Bridal Chorus. (By request.) Wagner. Selections from opera "Travalla." Flow. Messrs. Truison, Alice, Clark and Lela. National Anthem—God Save Our President from Every Heart. Millard.

An Overy Harp.

I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to try at it. I let my children use it and they followed all the family and would say: It is the best remedy I ever used. My neighbors who used it are of the same opinion. Young, Williams, Centre, Williams Co. Ohio.

The pastor of 18 streets church, which

Twenty-sixth and Howard streets, has arranged for an evening service beginning with next Sunday, which is intended to reach strangers and those not familiar with the regular church services. The service will be brief, and strictly congregational, with an address or sermon on some interesting topic. It is hoped that in this way non-church-goers, especially young people, will be interested, and the attendance largely increased. All seats are free, and all who attend will be welcomed.
